Today you join a global network of alumni who are shaping their communities and tackling the most pressing challenges of our time. Wherever you go, you will find fellow Tar Heels ready to support you and cheer you on.

Congratulations — Go Heels!

ALMA MATER

The words of "Hark the Sound," UNC–Chapel Hill's alma mater, were written in 1897 by William Starr Myers, a graduating senior. The Glee Club director asked Myers to put words to the tune "Amici," and the song was first performed on June 2, 1897, as part of the Glee Club's Commencement performance in Gerrard Hall.

Soon the song was almost forgotten. When a University quartet tried a few years later to remember the words, they could recollect only the first verse and the chorus of Myers' original version. Two members of the quartet, Charles S. Mangum and Charles T. Woollen, added two verses to the one they remembered. Mangum later became a professor in the School of Medicine, and Woollen worked as the University's business manager and comptroller.

HARK THE SOUND

Hark, the sound of Tar Heel voices
Ringing clear and true,
Singing Carolina's praises,
Shouting N.C.U.!

Hail to the brightest star of all!
Clear its radiance shine!
Carolina, priceless gem,
Receive all praises thine.

CHANCELLOR

LEE H. ROBERTS

Lee H. Roberts is the 13th chancellor of the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill, appointed on August 9, 2024, having served as interim chancellor since January 2024.

As chancellor, Roberts is the chief executive of the first public university in the United States, overseeing a $4.5 billion budget, approximately 30,000 students, 4,000 faculty, and 10,000 staff at UNC-Chapel Hill, a global R1 research university and member of the American Association of Universities, generating $1.55 billion in annual research funding.

Chancellor Roberts has placed priorities on initiatives that will help graduating Tar Heels find success and support researchers, faculty, and staff in the areas of generative AI, applied sciences, enrollment growth, and campus master planning, among others. A longtime advocate for higher education and public service, Roberts served as North Carolina's state budget director under Governor Pat McCrory (2014–2016), leading efforts such as the $2 billion Connect NC bond for campus infrastructure. He has been a member of the UNC System Board of Governors (chairing its budget committee), the State Board of Community Colleges, the North Carolina Banking Commission, and the Golden LEAF Foundation, which supports educational and economic opportunities in rural North Carolina. For five years, he taught public budgeting at Duke University's Sanford School of Public Policy and served on its Board of Visitors.

Before becoming interim chancellor, Roberts was the co-founder and managing partner of SharpVue Capital, a North Carolina private investment firm that specializes in stewarding institutional funds and growing local economies.

Roberts is committed to advancing UNC-Chapel Hill's mission, emphasizing its role as a cornerstone of North Carolina's future, and actively engages with students and faculty, drawing on his public service background and deep respect for the University's traditions.

COMMENCEMENT SPEAKER AND HONORARY DEGREE RECIPIENT

ERIC CHURCH

Doctor of Humane Letters

Over a career spanning two decades, singer and songwriter Eric Church has distinguished himself as one of American music's most influential voices. His albums have debuted at the top of the charts, achieved multi-platinum success, and expanded the creative boundaries of contemporary country music.

Church's artistic achievements have earned him widespread recognition, including 11 Grammy nominations and two Album of the Year awards from the Country Music Association, which named him Entertainer of the Year in 2020.

Beyond the stage, Church has demonstrated an unwavering commitment to supporting local communities through philanthropy and humanitarian aid, with TIME Magazine naming him to the inaugural TIME100 Philanthropy list for his leadership. In 2013 he and his wife, Katherine, founded the Chief Cares Fund, which seeks to strengthen communities through compassion, action, and long-term investment. The fund has supported disaster relief, educational and housing opportunities, and health initiatives to benefit individuals and families in the U.S. and globally.

Although Church spends much of his time in Nashville, he maintains strong ties to North Carolina and has often cited the mountains as both a respite and a source of creative inspiration. A native of Granite Falls, Church is a graduate of Appalachian State University and a minority owner of the Charlotte Hornets NBA team. In 2016 he was inducted into the North Carolina Music Hall of Fame, and in 2022 he was recognized with the North Carolina Award, the state's highest honor, in recognition of his impact on music and his commitment to his home state.

In October 2024 Church spearheaded the Concert for Carolina, which attracted a record-setting audience of more than 82,000 at Charlotte's Bank of America Stadium and raised more than $24 million for Hurricane Helene relief efforts. Following the concert, Church announced that Chief Cares would fund the construction of homes for victims of the disaster via the Blueprint for the Blue Ridge initiative.

CEREMONY DETAILS

THE CHANCELLOR'S MEDAL

The chancellor's medal, an emblem of the office of chancellor, is worn during the University's ceremonial occasions. The sterling silver disk, which is three inches in diameter and seven ounces Troy weight, was given to the University by John Sanders, professor emeritus and former director of the UNC Institute of Government, and his wife, Ann Beal Sanders. Modeled by sculptor Pete Hinton and bearing the University seal, it was first worn by Chancellor Paul Hardin during the 1994 University Day convocation. The medal was recently updated with a silver chain of office that includes thin rectangles engraved with the names and dates of service of previous UNC chancellors. It also features links made in the shape of the Old Well and the Davie Poplar leaves, both icons of the Carolina campus.

THE BICENTENNIAL STAFF

The faculty marshal carries the bicentennial staff while leading the faculty processional on ceremonial occasions such as Commencement and University Day. The staff, commissioned for the University's 1993 bicentennial celebration by John Sanders, professor emeritus and former director of the UNC Institute of Government, and his wife, Ann Beal Sanders, was modeled by sculptor Pete Hinton. It consists of a sterling silver three-inch-high replica of the Old Well mounted on a turned and tapered oak shaft. The shaft was made from timber salvaged from the 1822 section of Old West residence hall during its 1991–1993 renovation.

UNIVERSITY COLORS

As symbols of unity among Carolina students, alumni and fans, the school colors of light blue and white were first used around 1800 to distinguish between members of the Dialectic and Philanthropic Literary Societies. Throughout the 19th century, students were required to be members of either the Di or the Phi. The Di's color was light blue, and the Phi's was white.

At University commencements, balls and other social events, the student officials, managers and marshals wore the color of their society, blue or white. Because the chief marshal or chief ball manager represented the whole student body, not just his society, he wore both colors.

When the University fielded its first intercollegiate athletic teams in 1888, the question of what colors to wear had already been answered. Light blue and white had come to symbolize membership in the University, not in a single society.

THE UNIVERSITY SEAL

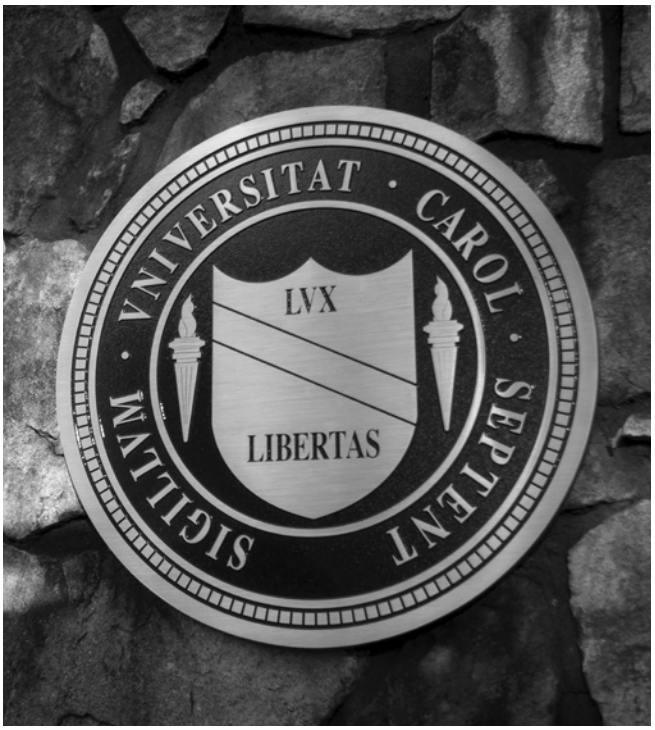
The University seal typically appears on diplomas and graduation materials, grade transcripts and documents that indicate accomplishment in or on behalf of the University.

The first seal of the University of North Carolina, designed in 1790, showed the face of Apollo and his emblem, the rising sun, used to symbolize the dawn of higher education in the state. The words "SIGUL UNIVERSITAT CAROL SEPTENT" (Seal of the University of North Carolina) surrounded the drawing.

A modification in 1895 added lighted torches of learning beside Apollo's profile. Two years later another alteration replaced Apollo's head with a shield on which the words Lux (light) and Libertas (liberty), separated by a white band running from the upper right to the lower left of the shield, appeared.

In the 1940s, some observers mistakenly claimed the white stripe on the shield was a bend sinister, a heraldic code that was demeaning. In truth, the stripe was a bar sinister and merely denoted a second or later son. Still, the direction of the stripe was reversed, removing any question of stigma.

Today's seal is the same as the 1897 version, except the stripe runs from the upper left to the lower right.



ACADEMIC DRESS

The following information, based in part on An Academic Costume Code and Ceremony Guide (published by the American Council on Education), may be helpful in identifying academic attire worn during UNC's Commencement exercises.

DEGREE CANDIDATES' REGALIA

The University's bachelor's gown, designed by Alexander Julian, is both Carolina blue and truly green, as in sustainably made. The fabric for the True Blue gown is made from 100 percent post-consumer recycled plastic bottles (23 bottles for each gown) and is manufactured at mills in the Carolinas. The information about the gown's sustainability is suitably printed directly on the cloth, without the use of an extra label. In addition to being dyed a custom Carolina blue color, the True Blue gowns also have a streamlined fit, with white piping along the yoke and two white panels in front. The tassels are blue and white, topped with a silver-colored Old Well medallion. An optional accessory is an embroidered white stole that the graduate may give to a parent in gratitude after the Commencement ceremony.

The untrimmed, black master's gown has a hood and an oblong sleeve, open at the wrist, that hangs nearly to the ground; the back part of its oblong shape is square cut and the arc in the front is cut away. The hooded doctoral gown features three bars across each sleeve. In 1999, the Faculty Council authorized a special doctoral gown for Carolina graduates. It is Carolina blue, with facings and crossbars of dark blue outlined in white piping. The facings bear the shield of the University supported by the torches of learning.

The hoods of master's and doctoral degree candidates vary in color according to the field of study (see list on the right).

FACULTY REGALIA

Faculty wear the regalia of the institution that conferred their highest degree. The doctoral gowns are usually faced with black velvet, although the color of the velvet may vary according to the field of study. Hoods, which differ in length according to the level of the degree held, are lined with official colors of the university or college that conferred the degree, usually with one color forming a chevron pattern over the other. Some colors you will see on faculty and administrators' robes are, for example, the crimson of Harvard, the maroon of Chicago, the orange and black of Princeton, the dark blue of Yale, and the light blue and white of North Carolina.

Like the hoods of master's and doctoral degree candidates, faculty hoods are edged and bound with velvet in the color appropriate to the field of study. The colors in the hoods and gowns of faculty and administrators represent the fields in which degrees were taken.

CANDIDATES FOR BACCALAUREATE DEGREES

MAY 2026

DEGREES WITH DISTINCTION

To graduate with distinction or with highest distinction, undergraduate students must have completed at least 45 academic hours at UNC–Chapel Hill and have an overall grade point average of at least 3.5 or 3.8, respectively.

HONORS CAROLINA

Honors Carolina is an outstanding collection of courses, special events, and learning opportunities geared toward the top students at Carolina. It is the University's way of investing in exceptional undergraduate students by providing academic and non-academic challenges and opportunities, both inside and outside the classroom. Honors Carolina students receive priority registration for more than 160 Honors courses each year. These are small classes, taught by professors who encourage classroom discussion and hands-on research.

Students who wish to graduate from Carolina "with Honors" or "with Highest Honors" must complete a senior honors thesis project in their major field(s) of study. Such students need not have been members of Honors Carolina. They must, however, meet academic eligibility standards set by Honors Carolina and the individual departments, curricula, and professional schools that sponsor senior honors thesis programs. Senior honors thesis students must complete an original and substantial research, performance, or creative project under direct supervision by a faculty advisor. Upon the completion of their projects, students must pass an oral examination or other appropriate form of evaluation.

§ Indicates candidate for degree from N.C. State University.
